W. BARNHY,

FOUGHT TO THE DEATH

Pistol Duel Between Detectives and Train Robber Suspects.

Two Officers and One Suspect Dead, Two Others Fatally Wounded and Others Badly Injured in a Room in St. Louis.

St. Louis, Oct. 22.-Two city detectives are dead and another is not expected to live during the night, while one train robber suspect is at the morgue and two others are in the city hospital, one probably fatally wounded and the other badly beaten up, as the result of a desperate battle Friday between five officers and three men whom they tried to arrest. Harry Adams, who escaped at the time of the shooting, was captured later by Detective Lee Killiam, who fired twice in making the arrest.

The dead: John J. Shea, detective; Thomas Dwyer, detective; Al Rose, suspect.

The wounded: James McClusky, detective, critical; C. C. Blair, fugitive, shot four times through the body; Harry H. Vaughn, fugitive, badly beaten about the head by detectives when he sought to aid his friends in the battle. The fight occurred in the front room of a house on Pine street, and the men whom the detectives sought to arrest are suspected of being implicated in a train robbery at Centralia, Ill., a few weeks ago.

The house had been under police surveillance for several days. A few minutes before the fight occurred Vaughn left the house and started to walk down Pine street. The detectives closed in on him after he had gone some distance from the house and he was arrested.

Accompanied by their prisoner the detectives returned and entered the house. Shea, McClusky and Dwyer were leading; Boyle and James were behind with the prisoner.

Hardly had the detectives entered the room in which Rose and Blair were seated when they were met with a volley of shots from a heavy caliber revolver. Shea sank to the floor on the first shot and Dwyer followed almost instantly.

By that time the detectives had drawn their revolvers and there was a deafening exchange for several sec-

The wounded officers and suspects were taken to the city hospital. Several hours after being taken to the hospital Detective Thomas Dwyer died. It was stated then by the physicians that it was feared Detective McCluskey and C. C. Blair could not

The room in which the battle occurred was a wreck. Bullet holes perforated walls, window sills and furniture, and every article in the room was overturned or broken.

AT PUERTO PLATA.

The Custom House Seized By An American Claimant.

Washington, Oct. 22.-The reported seizure by the United States of the custom house at Puerto Plata presumably arises from the already accomplished or contemplated occupation of that port by an American designated by the commission which awarded to the Santo Domingo Improvement Co. $4,500,000 damages against Santo Domingo. That award was automatically self-executing and provided that if Santo Domingo failed to pay the award the agent named by the commission was to take charge of four of not one in which the United States government is interested except in the contingency that the government of Santo Domingo fails entirely to meet its obligations to the improvement company and then only to the extent of seeing that its interests shall not suffer through such neglect. The officials say no forcible intervention by the government of the United States is contemplated at this time.

THE MARINE OFFICERS.

Important Opinion Given By Attorney General Moody.

Washington, Oct. 22.-Attorney General Moody has given an opinion to the secretary of the navy to the effect that officers of the marine corps who served during the civil war and who were retired prior to the passage of the naval appropriation act of April 27, 1904, are not entitled to advanced rank on the retired list on the ground that the benefits of that act applied only in the cases of marine officers thereafter retired.

New York, Oct. 22.-Alice Klingenberg, 14, who Thursday caused the death of her six-weeks-old niece whom she was attending at the home of her sister in Montclair, N. J., was Friday held without bail to await the action of the grand jury.

A CHILD KIDNAPED.

Later the Body Was Found With Skull Crushed and Throat Cut.

Philadelphia, Oct. 24.-With the forehead crushed and the throat cut, the body of four-year-old Michael Mayerski, who was kidnaped near his home in Phoenixville, 28 miles from this city, Friday evening by a band of men supposed to be gypsies, was found Sunday in an abandoned farm house a few miles from Valley Forge. In connection with the murder six men belonging to a party of gypsies were arrested by Chief of Police Carter, of Phoenixville, and several constables, and after an exciting time were lodged in jail at that place. Only the courage and quick action of the police saved the prisoners from being roughly handled by a large crowd of excited

The child was picked up Friday evening by a party of men who were driving through the town in two covered wagons. A boy saw them take the child but before he could attract any one's attention to pursue the kidnapers they had disappeared. All day Saturday and Saturday night searching parties were out trying to trace the wagons, but without success. Sunday while three men were in the woods gathering chestnuts they accidentally came across the body of the boy. Nearby lay a club with hair and blood on it. The authorities were quickly notified and the entire police force of Phoenixville and vicinity started out in search of gypsy bands. During the afternoon one party came across a company of them and took them into custody. They denied any knowledge of the crime.

The report that six gypsies had been arrested soon spread through Phoenixville and hundreds of men and women gathered along the streets. As the prisoners were brought through the streets there were cries of "Lynch them," "Burn them." The officers drew their revolvers and kept the angry crowd back. At the lock-up a large crowd was gathered, and the officers had difficulty in getting their prisoners through the threatening mob into the jail. The prisoners were badly frightened.

It Fired on British Fishing Vessels in the North Sea.

A Couple Sunk and Several Persons Killed and Wounded-Other Ships Badly Damaged—News Causes An Intense Sensation.

Hull, Eng., Oct. 24.-A. M. Jackson & Co., solicitors for the owners of 50 Hull fishing boats, have notified the foreign office and admiralty of an attack on the Hull fishing fleet by the Russian second Pacific squadron, commonly designated as the Baltic fleet. The official information is that shortly after midnight Friday the Russian squadron fell in with the Hull fishing fleet in the North sea. The first portion of the fishing fleet passed safely. Then the Russian ships turned their searchlights on the British vessels for some time and a little later opened fire. The steam trawler Crane was sunk and the decapitated bodies of her skipper and mate have been brought to Hull. The boatswain and other members of the crew are understood to be seriously wounded.

The steam trawlers Moulmein and Mino have arrived at Hull seriously damaged by shots, the latter having 16 holes in her hull. It is feared that other damage was done to the trawlers and that at least one more was lost with all hands.

The only survivor of the Crane who has yet reached here is J. A. Smith, son of the deceased skipper, and who, with the captains of the Moulmein and Mino, is going to London to consult with the authorities. Young Smith was asleep in his bunk when the firing aroused him. Just as he was getting up, a shot struck the starboard and penetrated to the forecastle, smashing a lamp near which he was standing. He rushed on deck where the searchlights revealed the horrible sight of his father and Leggett lying headless and the deck strewn with the injured. It was soon found that the vessel was sinking and signals for assistance were sent up. Smith and others concur in the details of the firing that have already been given.

London, Oct. 24.-The steam cutter Magpie, belonging to the Gamecock trawler fleet, which was fired on by the Russian Baltic fleet, arrived in the Thames Sunday night. Her captain, Peaker, confirmed the details of the story received from Hull. He says: "Friday night there were about 40 vessels of the Gamecock fleet fishing in latitude 55 degrees 15 minutes, and longitude 5 degrees 6 minutes. It was a misty, drizzling night. We spread over an area of some miles. Our admiral had just previously signalled by rocket and colored lights the fishing direction for the night. Whether that had anything to do with what followed I do not know; the whole thing is a mystery."

Hull, Oct. 24.-The news has created an intense sensation and indignation in Hull. The Moulmein arrived with her flag at half-mast. Her skipper states that the trawlers were fishing about 220 miles east by north of Spurn Head at 1 o'clock Saturday morning, the weather being heavy, when the outlines of several vessels, apparently warships, sailing in a line, were dimly seen. Whilst the crew were watching the warships, searchlights were flashed upon them, in the glare of which the Moulmein's crew observed what they took to be torpeds boats approaching, apparently with the intention of boarding the Moulmein. They steamed away, however, and soon the fishermen were horrified to find they were being fired upon. First one and then another trawler was struck by flying shot. What seemed to be a round shot went through the Moulmein galley. The Mino, lying nearby, also was struck with many shots, but fortunately the damage was above her water line and none of her crew was struck. The bombardment lasted about 20 minutes. When it had ceased the fleet sailed southward, and some of the trawlers sent up rockets. The Moulmein steered in the direction of the rocket. Soon cries were heard, and the Crane was found sinking with another trawler taking off some of her crew. Those seriously injured were removed to a mission ship and the bodies of Smith and Leggett were placed aboard the Moulmein. The other men with minor injuries were put aboard the trawler Sea Gull, which at a late hour had not arrived at Hull.

Washington, Oct. 24.—Astonishment that the Russian commander should have committed such a blunder as to fire on inoffensive fishing vessels as reported in dispatches from Hull prevailed in official circles Sunday night. At the same time these officials are prompt to express the opinion that the Russian government will promptly disavow the act and apologize when the facts are fully known. The tragedy, it is realized, adds to the complications which the Baltic fleet already encountered ever since it was determined that the vessels should go to the far east.

Jealousy of Poets.

"Minor poets," said Howard Chandler Christy, the illustrator, "are apt to be jealous of one another and to treat one another rudely and spitefully. At a literary dinner the other day I heard two minor poets in conversation. 'I saw your villanelle in the Blank Magazine,' said the first. 'Did you?' said the other. 'Yes, and I heard a neat compliment on it, too, by a young woman.' 'What did she say?' The first poet laughed. 'Why,' he answered, 'she wanted to know if I had written it.'"

Prunes for Character.

Now comes one of those up-to-date scientists and declares that a steady diet of prunes will strengthen the moral character. This is simply a variation of the old saw: "Be good and you'll be happy, but you won't have much fun."-Chicago Journal.

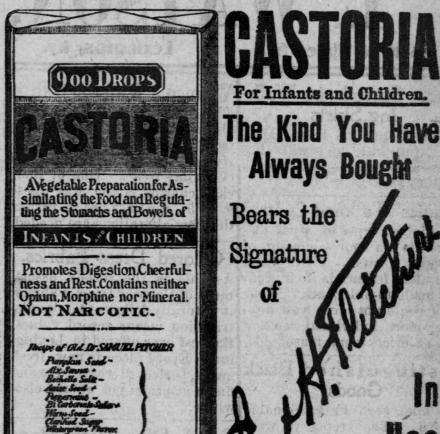

A THEORY SUPPORTED BY FRESH CONCLUSIVE EVIDENCE

Recent Instance Proves That a Woman's Happiness is Largely Dependent on the State of Her Blood.

When the blood is disordered every organ of the body is affected unfavorably and fails to discharge its functions properly. In the case of every woman nature has made special provision for a periodical purification of the blood and so long as this occurs her health and spirits unfailingly reveal the beneficial results. So slight a cause as a cold or a nervous shock may produce a suppression of this vital function and until it is restored she is doomed to misery. The remedy that has proved most prompt and effective in all disorders peculiar to the female sex, is that which brought such great relief to Miss Mattie Griggs, of No. 807 Indiana street, Lawrence, Kansas, concerning which she speaks as "In the winter of 1902, from some unknown cause, there was a cessation of functions peculiar to my sex for a period of four months. I became very weak and could not get up stairs without help. I had nausea and pain and a constant headache. I was under the care of a physician for three months, but he did not succeed in caring me. Then a lady friend told me about the merits of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills which she had used in her family and she induced me to try them. It was in May when I first began to use them and in June I had fully recovered my health, and have since remained perfectly well."

In all cases of delayed development of young girls; in anæmia or weakness due to impoverished blood and showing itself in pallor, lack of ambition, despondency and nervousness; also in the great constitutional -disturbances attending the period known as the change of life, Or. Williams' Pink Pills are invaluable for women, whose health is always closely dependent on the state of the blood. They are sold by all druggists. A booklet of valuable information, relating to the care of a woman's health at all important periods, and entitled "Plain Talks to Women," will be sent free in a sealed envelope to any one who chooses to write for it to the Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.
